COUNTDOWN TO THE BIG DAY

Peabody's 32nd International Festival only days away

PEABODY, MA - After a year of organizing booths, booking entertainment, constructing traffic plans, and establishing Kid's Day events, the City of Peabody's 32nd Annual International Festival is only days away.

"The excitement at this point has reached a fever pitch," said Mayor Edward A. Bettencourt, Jr. "This year's Festival is going to be great. People are really fired up for it."

Per usual the festival will feature a wide variety of ethnic cuisine available from approximately 70 booths lining Peabody Square and continuing up Main Street. Festival goers will surely be entertained as a number of cultural groups perform music and dance routines specific to their heritage. Two stages will be placed at each end of the event; one in the Square and the other at the top of Main Street.

The Art Galleria on Foster Street will have all sorts of local artists presenting their artwork, some of which will also be for sale. Kid's Day will take place at East End Veterans Memorial Park and will have plenty of fun activities and interactive performances for the young ones.

Peabody's International Festival will take place on September 20, 2015 from 11:00 a.m. until 5:30 p.m. For more information or questions please call (978)-538-5700 or visit the festival website at www.peabodyinternationalfestival.com.

For those unable to attend, the International Festival will be aired live on Peabody Access TV Channel 9.
